3,000 ATTEND FOOTBALL GAME AT SCOTSDALE

Largest Crowd of Fans Known at Mill Town Gathers for Armistice Clash.

OLD-TIMERS ARE WINNERS

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, Nov. 12.—Saturday afternoon Thomas A. Llewellyn Post of the American Legion, closed a very successful week, when their team of Old-Timers, headed by Elmer Carroll, defeated the Independents of Mount Pleasant by a score of 14 to 7. Never before has such a crowd witnessed a game at Louisa Park. It was estimated by some that fully 3,000 persons crowded the park.

The next affair to be staged by the Legion will be the "Jollies," to be given in Scottdale on November 20-21-22. The "Jollies" will be given under the very direction of Jack Keefer of Monaca, in conjunction with Allen Green and Harold Andrews. High School girls are disposing of the tickets for the Legion.

In Interest of Orphanage.
The "Life of Joseph," a moving picture in two reels, and one reel on the Baptist Orphanage in Pittsburgh were shown at the First Baptist Church last evening. Mrs. Kauffman of Pittsburgh gave an address also. Mrs. F. L. Brown and Mrs. W. W. Bisher of this place attended a meeting of the Orphanage Board in Pittsburgh last Thursday, representing the Scottdale congregation.

At Presbyterian Church.
Mrs. Helen Stevens of New York, who is in Pittsburgh taking part in the Presbyterian exposition, spoke yesterday morning in the Presbyterian Church.

Roll Call Begun.
The annual roll call of the Red Cross was begun here on Saturday and will continue until Thanksgiving Day.

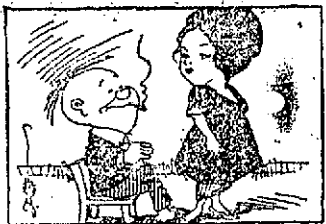

New Bell Cashier.
Miss Esther Anderson of this place has succeeded Miss Allen Calvert as cashier at the Bell Telephone Company office. Miss Calvert has been transferred to Pittsburgh. She has been cashier here for more than 10 years.

W. C. T. U. News.
Mrs. Ralph Stoner of Market street will entertain the W. C. T. U. at the regular meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Legion Auxiliary Meeting.
The regular meeting of the Legion Auxiliary will be held in the Legion room tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. It is the request of the president that every member be present.

Injured Girl Improves.
Miss Gwen Rollins, who had something thrown into her eyes after the Scottdale-Connellsville High football game is getting along nicely and possibly will be able to take the bandage off the eye in a few days.

Personal Mention.
Miss Gertrude Yarnier left on Saturday for the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, to complete her studies there.

FRANK

"You're sure you've no objection to marrying a traveling man?"
"On the contrary, I wouldn't marry a man who'd be home too much of the time."

Variable.
The gent who shed a humid tear at night in the shade now strains an ear that he might hear the steamship siren.

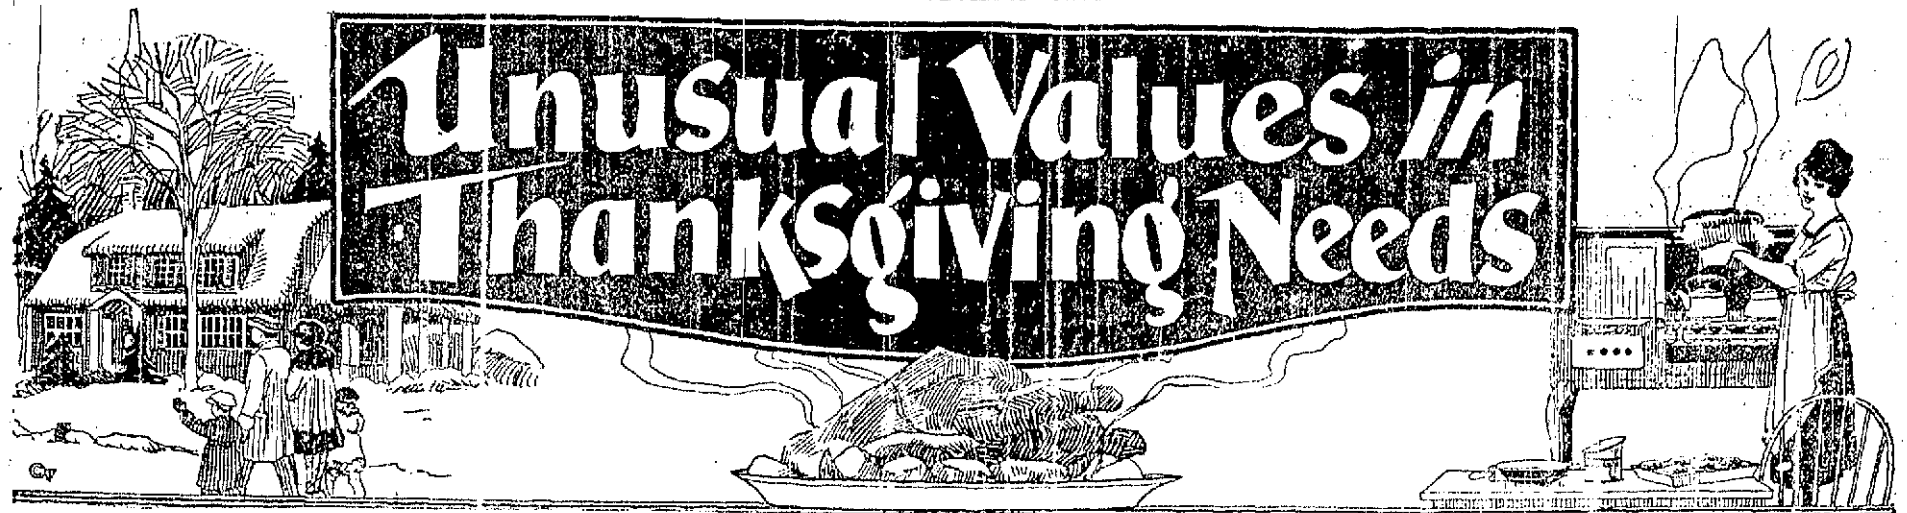

Love All Gone Then.
Mrs. Pennywise—Too bad your honey has no money. But I suppose it'll be a case of love in a cottage.
Miss Goldilocks—No, I think not. You see, we're going to board at first and we won't move into our cottage until after the honeymoon.

WOMAN COULD NOT WORK

Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a long time. I was tired, worn-out feeling and painful periods. I used to get up with pain in my back and pains in my joints and back. I was not able to do any work. I took your little bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did me good. I am now strong and can do everything I want to do. I am not a year in my back. I can recommend your medicine and you can tell the doctor as a testimonial."—Mrs. F. M. Mason, 301 Vine Street, St. Paul, Minn.

Just another case where a woman found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many times these tired, worn-out feelings and pains about the body are from troubles only women have. The Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for just this condition. The good results are noted by the disagreeable symptoms passing away—one after another.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a Woman's Medicine for Women's Ailments. Always reliable.

Westmoreland Criminal Court Opened Today

GREENSBURG, Nov. 11.—The November term of quarter sessions court was opened today, with Judge Charles D. Copeland, Charles T. Whitten and William T. Don, Jr., presiding. Some items of business were cleared up in court Friday morning. Two foreigners charged with bootlegging were paroled.

Of the 266 cases listed for trial in the next two weeks, about 60 of the cases are for alleged violations of dry laws. Some of the men have indicated that they will plead guilty to the charges and have their cases submitted to the court for sentence. The list includes the usual large number of light cases, larceny, games and crimes against morals and society. Several murder cases will be ready for trial the second week.

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 12, 1934.

THE BROADER PURPOSES OF THE RED CROSS.

The American Red Cross has a broader purpose and wider field than ministering to the distresses of people in a single community or a state or the United States. It is an all-embracing service as charity
and knows no distinctions as to race,
color or creed.

The annual Roll Call is not intended, therefore, to enlist the sympathy and practical aid of persons kindly disposed toward the need of particular groups of persons suffering some form of distress. It is designed to set forth the great humanitarian organization that it can do much more than care for domestic disasters and "insure" as President Harding points out, "to every disaster or disaster of service men
the full measure of care and help which national gratitude and simple justice dictate." It must be equipped to continue the promotion of the physical welfare of the people everywhere whence the call for aid may come.

There are particularly urgent reasons to appeal this year. President Harding says, "in behalf of an even greater generosity than has been necessary in some other times, because of the extraordinary demands upon such services of mercy and humanity. One of the most fearful disasters of all history has befallen the disolated Near Eastern area, where the lives of millions of unfortunate people even now depend, and must continue for a long time to depend,
on the untiring liberality of more favored communities."

"A very great sum is required to be raised if the emergency shall be met; and while the task is one to which all well-disposed peoples must contribute our own country in virtue of its inspirations of humanity
and its fortunate endowment in material possessions, must be conspicuous for both the great share it shall give and the high spirit animating
the gift."

"For these reasons, regardless of the multitude of local problems in every community, the American Red Cross deserves a well at the hands of the American people."

We must answer this appeal not because we have a interest in what the Red Cross does or can do in the Connellsville district or elsewhere in Fayette county, but because we are prompted by the broadest sympathies with its objects to give success wherever a fellow being may be in need of it.

WHEN "SPEEDING" IS WITHOUT DANGER.

Owners of automobiles can promote their own convenience and be of helpful assistance to the automobile division of the State Highway Department in the registration of motor vehicles if they act upon the suggestion to file their applications early.

Since November 1 the department has been engaged in distributing 1935 licenses in accordance with a plan to avoid the congestion of applications which has heretofore taken place during the closing weeks of the year. While this distribution has sometimes reached as high as 20,000 sets of plates a day, and the total to date has been somewhat greater than last year at this time, it is realized that unless owners of cars file their applications promptly
it will not be possible for all to secure their 1935 license by the beginning of the new year.

A little forethought and quick action on the part of car owners will prevent the inconvenience resulting from failure to secure the legal right to operate their vehicles when their present license expires by limitation on December 31.

This is one case when "speeding"
by automobile will be lawful and without incurring danger to any person.

President Wilson says the Armistice was a "negation." History has not recorded that he negated the proposal when it was so eagerly offered as a means of saving Germany's face.

The Red Cross Roll Call is not a
"drive." It is an opportunity for you to do with the least effort what you might consider a pleasant duty.

Changing from Democrat to Republican Congressman Campbell has set an example some of the newly elected members will doubtless follow

when they more fully realize that their party is so much of a back number that it can never hope to catch up with present day demands and progress.

That West Newton girl who prefers to sell potatoes and bananas to being an actress is wise in her day and generation and on a safe way to have money in bank.

Not too late to send in your check
as your quota of the Salvation Army Hodge Service fund.

The Tax Exempts

Making Citizens Journal

Tax-exempt bonds are increasing in volume. Every new issue finds a ready market. They draw from the reservoir of liquid capital vast sums which otherwise would be available for industrial investment. They cause an additional tax burden to be imposed to meet interest and sinking fund requirements. They reduce the tax base of the country by increasing the volume of non-taxable wealth. They foster extravagance in the expenditure of public funds. They encourage public indebtedness
beyond a sound credit basis, weakening the credit of the nation. They stimulate inflation and discourage retrenchment. They create temporary employment in industrial enterprises where the shortage of labor is dangerously acute. They exempt from taxation a class of wealthy citizens who wield great political influence without sharing directly the duties or responsibilities of government. They constitute an obstacle to industrial prosperity and a menace
to national welfare.

Unless prompt measures are taken to prevent the continued issuance of such securities, to curb extravagance
in public expenditures, to limit public indebtedness for unnecessary or unproductive enterprises, and to otherwise control agencies of government which at present ignore economic laws in pursuance of their administrative or legislative functions, the nation will be confronted one long with a serious political and economic upheaval for this cause alone. Only a Constitutional amendment can remedy this situation and prompt action is imperative.

It argues well for the taxpayers
of the country that the Federal Administration recognize the importance of the issue. The removal of the exemption whereby income from such securities will be made subject

Everyday English

Compliment-Complement.

Compliment (pronounced com-pliment) with the accent on the second syllable means an expression of admiration, or a mark of courtesy.
Complement means a full or complete number, or amount, the state of being full or complete.
Example: He was lavish in his compliments on the beauty of the place. The vessel has her complement of men.

Dear Friend—
I note by The Courier that you have been congratulated by the Connellsville district for the work you did and for retaining your service all these years.

I hope you are still in good health and will continue to be so for a long time. You have been very pleasant recollections of your services to us when we were in Connellsville, and am interested to see you like long and be happy and successful.

Very cordially yours,

LIFE'S STORY.

To write life's story well one must be wise in the beauty of courageous deeds.
The strong clean virtues and the simple graces.
And though in vice some truth of nature lies.
And there are those things which
good despise.
Who live with splendor what is in common leads.

To better standards him who blindly
leads.
Who lives the mile shall never higher
rise.
To live life's story well needs wisdom,
To wisdom to pass by goodness underd.

To be the worst of nature and come
to be the best.
To be trusted by a small child.
To have true and calm and must be seen.
But still to live your life with what is clear.

NEWS OF DAY AT MOUNT PLEASANT BRIEFLY RELATED

Good Work of Red Cross Nursing Shown in Report of Nurse for October.

MISS HARMON ENGAGED

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, Nov. 13.—The Red Cross Public Health Nursing Service for Mount Pleasant for the month of October, with Miss Nan Haslam as nurse, has taken care of 14 patients, made 98 nursing visits, 49 infant welfare visits, three pre-natal visits, 32 visits to schools, 25 visits to school children, six social service visits, 12 friendly visits, 34 other visits, a total of 262 visits. Forty-one babies attended the well baby clinic, best attendance of any month since the opening of the clinic last April, seven new babies were enrolled; children numbering 1,089 were weighed and measured in the public schools, 273 children were found to be 10 per cent or more under weight, which shows a serious condition of malnutrition. A personal letter is being sent out to the parents of these children notifying them of this condition and advice given how to remedy it. Twenty-four children were found to be seriously overweight.

Engagement Announced.
Miss Olga Harmon entertained at bridge at her home here on Friday evening at which time the engagement of her sister, Miss Marie A. Harmon to Robert C. Sobott of New York, was announced. Miss Harmon is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Harmon of College avenue. The engagement will terminate in an early summer wedding.

S. K. Eversole's Funeral.
Funeral services for S. K. Eversole were held at the United Brethren Church on Saturday afternoon with interment following in the Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Canvass by Teachers.
The public school teachers on Saturday conducted a canvass of the town in behalf of the Red Cross roll call. They made a house to house canvass, dividing the town up among those of the wards in which they teach.

Personal Mention.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Plemann spent Saturday in Pittsburgh.

A Pleasure and a Profit.

Jones—Yes; she considers reading a pleasure, but it usually takes her longer than anybody else to read a book, because she always forgets where she stopped reading the last time and has to start at the beginning again to be on the safe side.—London Answers.

Histrionic Sacrilege.
"The play's the thing!" exclaimed Hamlet.

"Yes," protested the manager of the company, "but it's too bad this little drama of yours had to be a tragedy. If you could cut out the killing this story of yours might make a first-rate bed room farce!"

Old Lady—Don't think me rude, dear, but is this meant for a man or a woman?

Art Student—I'm so glad you ask that, auntie.

Old Lady—Why, dear?

Art Student—Cuz George couldn't tell whether it was supposed to be human.—London Punch.

One Minute Health Talk

Headaches

Headaches are very common in this day and age, thousands of people suffer with them from year to year, often going from bad to worse, trying this, that and the other thing with only temporary relief and at last giving up in despair, believing that there is no help for them.

If you are a headache sufferer—regardless of what form, you should consult a competent CHIROPRACTOR and allow him to make a careful spinal analysis of your case.

If you are sick and wish to recover your health speedily and permanently, CHIROPRACTIC is what you need. You will be surprised at the result.

There is no charge for consultation and it puts you under no obligation.

FAMOUS SARATOGA BATTLEFIELD A NEGLECTED AMERICAN SHRINE

Bill in Congress Proposes to Provide for Compilation and Preservation of Data Showing Positions and Movements of Troops—Decisive Campaign of Revolution—Literary and Historic Classic.

Between October 7, 1777, and the present day there has been more stenographically reported conversation, more stenographically reported speechmaking, more official printing on the subject of cleaning, caring for and guarding the battlefield of Saratoga and the relics of the two fights which thereon took place than there has been on almost any other subject in the purview of American legislative bodies, great and small, not even excepting the tariff. Yet facility has marked every official preservative effort, says David G. Bullie in the New York Herald. Why should not the world famous battlefield be attended to in behalf of the American public, present and future, in a decent and patriotically instructive manner? Again is the question being asked by the Sons and the Daughters of the American Revolution, the American Science and Historic Preservation Society and other patriotic organizations, and it is believed that when the public realizes that the probable and most easily accessible obstacle to a park program is the necessity for expenditure of a comparatively small amount of money this obstacle will be overcome without much trouble. There are many thousands of citizens who could finance the Saratoga preservation project without anybody's help, and by popular subscription the needed amount could and would be raised with ease. The American Science and Historic Preservation society would be the logical disbursing of the cash for expenses; preferably acting in consultation with other representative organizations. Establishment thus of a responsible Saratoga battlefield memorial conference would meet with public favor and would end a condition which, if the public were aware of it, would be recognized as a public and national disgrace. Such a conference might also with advantage take over or have a share in care for the Saratoga monument at Schuylerville.

Turning Point in Conflict.
Beyond reasonable doubt every reader is familiar with the fact that the Saratoga campaign culminated in one of the world's decisive battles, which was followed by the surrender of Burgoyne's army and by the participation of France in the Revolutionary conflict.

The term Saratoga includes two fights and the Burgoyne capitulation. In spite of the momentous importance to the nation of these events, without which, indeed, there might not have been any independent American nation, Saratoga has from the first fared badly at the hands of politicians. They have blocked all attempts to provide public money for even the most elementary purposes, evenness for example, are standing now in the way of a proposed survey, absolutely necessary if a park program is to be engaged in, absolutely necessary for historical continuity purposes and absolutely necessary if this Republic is to demonstrate what the Declaration of Independence calls "a decent respect to the opinions of mankind."

It is not believed that in all the civilized world there may be found another instance or example of a nation's neglect of a national shrine which may be compared for flagrant neglect with American neglect of Saratoga field, which might be, and should be made one of the nation's greatest and best known resorts, the yearly scene of the biggest and best attended Independence Day celebration held under the Stars and Stripes.

Recent investigation by an examining party of which the writer was a member has been followed by another stirring up of the Saratoga subject, and, according to latest available reliable information, the Saratoga preservation bill, introduced by Senator Calder in the United States senate on August 9, 1921, read twice and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, still has a chance for its life. It is not dead, but sleeping.

It is the latest of a long train of endeavors, pursuing inevitably the same object, which have come to naught during the years that have elapsed since the well known British essayist and dramatist, John Burgoyne, turned one of his reputations while planning military general in America.

To Survey Battlefield.
The bill now pending proposes to make a survey of the Saratoga battlefield and to provide for compilation and preservation of data showing the various positions and movements of troops, illustrated by diagrams. It is not long, and advantageously may be quoted in full.

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, That the sum of $10,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to make a survey of the Saratoga battlefield; also to provide for the compilation of all available data used in locating the movements or positions of troops of the battles in September and October, 1777, on that battlefield; also to prepare diagrams showing the changing movements and positions during those battles, with reference to the study and correct understanding of those battles for historical, military and other purposes, and with a view to enable the United States to obtain title to property within the state of New York for the purpose of erecting monuments or tablets to mark such positions and military movements, and for the preservation of said battlefield for historical and other purposes; also to make an estimate of the probable cost of acquiring so much of the battlefield as the Secretary of War may deem necessary to preserve its important topographical features; the whole to be done by and under the direction of the Secretary of War, who is hereby authorized to employ qualified assistants and experts in determining such locations and in making surveys and diagrams and estimates provided for by this act, and to pay such assistants and experts a reasonable compensation out of this appropriation."

Literary and Historic Classic.
The exact date of the first fight (Indecisive) was September 19, and of the second fight (decisive) October 7, 1777. It is evident enough that has elapsed since those dates to give opportunity for adequate preparations for a survey to be followed by proper monumenting and permanent care of the field.

New England cities are heaving themselves for commemorative purposes of places and objects connected with the revolution, but again are Saratoga commemorative activities at a standstill, and it is most pitifully evident that the bill, the very vehicle of which is a testimony of national shortcomings and disinterest with regard to one of the world's most important decisive battles, is in a state of suspended animation because it mentions a sum of money.

Saratoga field today is an unimpaired waste, neglected and forlorn, dreary and dilapidated, a testimony of apathy, unbelievable and a witness against those responsible, and the most genuine farmhouse in the world.

Freeman's farm, around which, window to window and door to door, ranged a hand to hand conflict. The windows are smashed and the doors are broken. It is possible they never have been repaired since the fight?

It is suggested that a committee should be established and maintained at the farmhouse, which should be a weatherlight and cozy and brought into telephone communication. The post of caretaker would be appropriate for a well informed veteran with a family. He should be picked from the World War ranks of the Yankees and should familiarize himself with the story of the Burgoyne campaign and the two great fights, and with the topography of the region round about, so that he may act competently and reliably as a describing guide.

The Tale He Would Tell.
The main story this afternoon would have to narrate would be about as follows:

Early in May, 1777, General Burgoyne, with a Tory and Imperialist army of 10,000 men, started from Canada toward Albany. With a force of 1,000 men he defeated the American army at the Battle of the Clouds. On September 19, Burgoyne, with 10,000 men, was met at Freeman's farm by a patriot force of 1,000 men. A battle raged at Freeman's farm for two hours, until darkness fell, neither side gaining decisive advantage and each little army losing from 500 to 1,000 men. This was the engagement that has been called the Battle of Freeman's Farm. The battle of the Clouds and the Battle of Freeman's Farm were the first of the Saratoga campaign.

From then the two armies were resolved to fight on. On October 7, 1777, the American army, led by General Horatio Gates, defeated the British army, led by General Burgoyne, at the Battle of Red Bank. This battle was the decisive battle of the Saratoga campaign. The British army was forced to surrender to the American army.

During the night, the British army was moved to a position about five miles from the battlefield. The American army followed them and on the morning of October 8, 1777, the Battle of Red Bank was fought. The British army was again defeated and was forced to surrender to the American army.

the Tories or the Liberty army, which seemed the safer, especially for property owners. The American army thus was increased in size and power and it developed the Tories, the former surrounding completely the latter.

MOTHER!

Your Child's Bowels Need "California Fig Syrup"

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "truly" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Game Is Less Than Thirty Years Old and Was Invented by Dr. James Naismith, Now of the University of Kansas.

New recruits to the ranks of basketball fandom are usually somewhat surprised to learn that the game originated in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. If they are witnessing their first game, and it isn't a Y. M. C. A., where the rules are followed closely and as much roughness as possible is eliminated, they are apt to think some one is kidding them.

But the Y. M. C. A. is the father and mother and the whole family of the basketball sport that has ever been devised. Best, in that more people can be entertained in the short space of time than in any other sport. The game itself is less than thirty years old, having been invented by Dr. James Naismith, now of the University of Kansas, but at the time of the game's introduction, connected with the Y. M. C. A. Training school at Springfield, Mass.

Originally the game was meant for mass gymnasium class work. It was almost instantaneous success. Gymnasium work at that time was practically all out and drill. Indian club, chest weights and dumbbell drill was the rule, and most of the old-time drill was while we were doing the drill. The training school was then, and still is, engaged in turning out instructors in physical work for the Y. M. C. A. throughout the world.

The need was felt for some sort of physical exercise that would arouse the competitive spirit of the gym classes and put fun into the work, and make it less like work.

Basketball was the result. As the years went on the number of men playing the game was reduced and more and more boys and young men have taken to it. It is played by young men from nine to forty years.

The game has been carried all over the world by the Y. M. C. A. graduates, and wherever a United States ship is stationed or the army has a post a playing court is laid out and a series of games played.

Oats Differ Like apples—be careful

Some oats are large and luscious. But a bushel of choice oats yields only ten pounds of such grains.

Those grains alone are used in Mother's Oats. That's the reason for the delightful flavor.

Some oats are small and stunted. They yield insipid flakes. Those oats are all discarded in this brand.

No food you serve to children can compare with oats. There are 16 needed elements in oats—body-builders, vim-producers, minerals, etc. Every pound of oats has 1810 calories of nutriment.

Oats, like, above all foods, should be served at their best. You want children to love this dish.

Then be careful. Ask for Mother's Oats, and make sure you get them.

Tornadoes Win Another Game With Ease; Cuda Team Is Victim; 48-0

Cokers' Smash Visitors' Defense for Many Big Gains.

SUBS GIVEN A CHANCE

The Conneltsville Tornado football team added another victim to its long list of wins on Saturday afternoon when it whitewashed the Cuda A. A. of Pittsburgh at Payette Field by the score of 48-0. Bill Martiny, former High School player who has been out for the Tornado team this season was given a chance to show what he could do in the backfield on Saturday and at the end of the game Bill had three touchdowns to his credit one of them resulting from a 50 yard run. Given interference by Martiny, Martiny easily escaped Cuda's safety man Phil Hart, regular in the Tornado backfield also played a brilliant game making runs of 15 and 25 yards and number of times. Although Hart failed to have a touchdown to his credit, he figured largely in putting the ball within striking distance of Cuda's goal.

In the first period of the game Cuda's opposition was stiff and the Tornadoes failing to gain any ground were forced to kick. Later Casey Jones threw a forward pass for a distance of 30 yards to Smeek who ran to Cuda's seven yard line before he was caught with Casey taking the ball over on the next play and then the Tornadoes really got started. After the first touchdown the game was over in doubt although the visitors showed lots of fight, making the Tornadoes work for what they got.

The visitors again in the last quarter showed lost of fight registering two or three first downs and taking the ball down the field toward the Tornadoes' goal. It was on the 20 yard line when the game ended.

The line-up

HIGH SCHOOL DROPS HARD-FOUGHT GAME WITH MONESSEN HI

Conneltsville High School failed to show its best brand of football at Monessen Saturday and as a result came away defeated by a score of 14-0 by a team just about its equal. The Cokers lacked the dash and punch displayed against Scottdale and the local game was very hard fought. Out Monessen scored touchdowns on long forward passes—thrown in desperation after the team had been held for downs within the shadow of the goal posts.

The first score came in the second period and the other in the third. The Cokers never were out of the running and the ending of the first half robbed the team of a touchdown. In the fourth period Meid received a forward pass from McCormick and evaded all of the Cokers' defense and landed the touchdown.

A number of bad passes and fumbles were made by both sides but the only toll was in lost ground the team making the fumble generally recovering. Whiskey was the only Coker back who could gain any ground around end with consistency and the only aerial pass which seemed to work was the one from McCormick to Meid direct over center. At other

EVERETT SCOTT NEARS GOAL

Yankee Shortstop Within 14 Games of 1000 Consecutive Game Record—Breaks All Records

Everett Scott, shortstop, finished the American league season this year with 14 games of his goal, playing in 1000 consecutive league contests. His streak of 891 straight games far beyond all previous records was broken by a ball that hit him in the leg.

Everett Scott

started June 20, 1918, when he was with the Red Sox until traded to New York last winter. The record nearest to Scott's is 977 games made in 1925 to 1930 in the old American association and National league by George B. Pinckney of the Brooklyn team. Fred Dueser of the Philadelphia National holds the modern National league record of 778 games played between 1919 and 1920.

Money Earned Boxer
According to Scott, the man who played for the Brooklyn team has earned over $100,000 in the ring. In all Dueser has fought 92 round battles, his hardest being with Joe Rivers in Los Angeles. It was the last 20 round bout in California, Dueser getting the decision.
